DE ORO FAIRLY RUNS

Retains Pocket Billiards Title by Margin Close to Three Hundred Balls.

PLAYS LISTLESSLY AT END

Challenger Takes Advantage of Lapse and Picks Up a Bit in the Final Block of Match.

Alfredo De Oro continued along his usual course as the world's pocket billiard champion after defeating Thomas Hueslast night in the final block of their match for the title in John Doyle's 42d street academy. The final score was 600 balls to 386, which, incidentally, marked the worst beating that has been placed on regord in many years.

The deciding session at the table found De Oro a trifle listless. He admitted it after the competition was over, as with a shrug of the shoulders, he said that it had been too one-sided to furnish an inspiration. The result was that Hueston picked up a bit on the last night. It was not much, but it was better than those which had preceded it, as De Ore enly ounted a total of 30 balls to his chal-

During the twenty-seven frames, which was the longest single session of the ompetition, the champion was the victim of five scratches, while Hueston only four and these came toward the Hueston's 34. The most notable change in the game was the fact that De Oro allowed his challenger to do the major part of the breaking, as Hueston had

It was between the tenth and the (welfth frames that De Oro put together his run of 38 balls. In bringing this off he was at his best, controlling the cue ball in masterful style, while his long direct shots and pretty cuts served to keep the crowd interested

After this the champion fell off on his perate chances and picked off a number sensational shots, especially in the way of masses, from close to the bunch, where De Oro attempte! to freeze the cue ball nd so tie up his opponent. At the be-

It afforded Hueston an opportunity to show his brilliancy, as he cleared the table twice running. Then he missed the break after getting one, and De Oro counted and the championship title was safely his.
